PRESIDENT'S COLUMN

by Adele Druck

A third of the year has slipped away and here we are looking forward to the end of the school year. The service our Library provides to the children of the area always amazes me. During the school year teens have interesting programs and get help with SAT preparation. Young children fill the meeting room for story time and arts and crafts. As soon as school is out we will see hundreds of names go up on the bulletin board for the Summer Reading Club. Teens will sign up for programs over the summer. Our star readers will be in place to read and to listen to young readers.

The Friends will fund fun and educational programs and parents as well as kids will come and enjoy them. Watch for the notices and flyers, which will be coming soon.

I am sure many of us have memories of the libraries of our childhood days and it is heartwarming to know that the tradition endures and another generation is finding the library a place to learn and enjoy.

LOCAL HISTORY COLLECTION

By David Hagopian, Senior Librarian, Branch Manager

The Encino-Tarzana Local History collection is a “reference only” collection of non-fiction books that all, in one aspect or another, pertain to our local and state history. Most of the books are older, so currently the value of the collection is historical. I am always on the look-out for recent publications about California, Los Angeles, and the San Fernando Valley and the neighborhoods that comprise it.

Of the 40 or so books in the collection, some of my favorites include:

--- Historic Spots in California, 4th Ed. (Library call # R 979.4 H6732 1990), which is a complete guide (up to 1990, that is, the year this edition was published) to the historical landmarks in California;

--- Then & Now : The San Fernando Valley (Library call # R979.41 L88K1), which is a small collection of photos taken in the early days of the San Fernando Valley development partnered with a more recent photo of how the same site or area appears now; and

--- Sunset's The California Missions : A Pictorial History (Library call # R x 979 C1535-1 1979a), the classic quintessential resource for California 4th graders working on their Mission projects.

These three wonderful books--and many others--are always available for browsing and review in the Special Collection area, which is directly behind the Information desk.

ALSO, be sure to peruse, in our Lobby, the display with photos and books of the history of our Encino-Tarzana Branch Library. This display will be changing from time to time, so look at it frequently to see what's new.

THANK YOU TO OUR DONORS –
YOU WHO DONATE ITEMS FROM YOUR PERSONAL LIBRARIES -- IN BEAUTIFUL CONDITION. YOU HELP US DO OUR JOB!

ANN SAMOOS (1916-2013) was the consummate volunteer. She was always here – whenever and wherever needed -- for many years.

Ann loved the Library and the Friends. She worked in our Bookstore and at book sales. She helped with sorting the books so that our customers could easily find what they wanted. She not only attended programs and events but usually helped with refreshments. She attended and participated in Board meetings even though she would not accept a Board position.

Ann was our 2006 “Friend of the Year” and she deserved the honor. As you can imagine, she was dependable, hard-working, and responsible, to the end. We do miss her!

USED BOOK SALES – AN INSIDER'S VIEW

by Norma Lamken, 2nd VP, and Bookstore Co-Manager

Next Book Sale is June 6th and 7th. Thanks to the wonderful donations and customer purchases, the last two sales have been very successful. We are hoping the next one will do equally well or even better! Although we've gotten some really interesting and fine donations so far, we can always use more books, audio material, and DVD's. Please bring donations to Library Information Desk.

The elves (sorters) are busy restocking the bookstore and sometimes changing all of the books on one bookshelf, taking down the old and putting up new titles. We're working on the hard cover fiction now, a real time taker because the books have to be alphabetized before we can put them on the shelves. Do check out some of the specialized areas in the Bookstore: the display rack, the recent arrival shelf, and the feature on the work counter. The oversize books on the acrylic display rack are selling well, so there are often new titles for you to see. Don't be fooled by the word "recent," In "recent arrivals;" it can mean a 2013 book, or a really interesting book that was recently donated. Any large donation of books on one particular topic becomes a feature on the work counter. We just took down "Saltwater Aquariums" and replaced it with "The Game of Chess."

There is only so much space in the Used Bookstore. Books that are not put there are packed in boxes by genre, and put in a storeroom at the back of the meeting room. When the storeroom is full, we move a cartload of boxes into one of three storage sheds behind the Library. When all three sheds are full, because there is generally a sale coming up soon, we reverse the process and bring all of the boxes back to the meeting room and set up for the sale.

Preparing for the June 6th book sale with one month to go, we have already filled two sheds and have a nice collection of vintage books ready for the display cabinet. We do need the next four weeks of donations to round out what promises to be a great selection of books. Please bring in your books.

AN INSPIRING STORY by Diane Hunt-Glassman, Volunteer

Ever wonder who buys all of those books we sort, price, store, haul, display, and haul again? Last week, while passing near the Friends' children's book cart, I noticed a woman who was building a tall stack of books near her checkbook. Since I do a great deal of the pricing for that category, I asked her if she was finding what she needed (with the intention of building a relationship with what looked like a serious customer). She replied that she was very pleased with the quality and the prices--and she was glad to find out that the proceeds are used in our branch.

Here's the inspiring part: She was buying all of these books for her husband to take to work. He's a local policeman who is instituting in his station house a "Book Corner" for innocent children who are waiting (sometimes for many hours) for someone to take responsibility for them.

We'll never know all of the worthy outcomes of our Friends volunteer efforts, but this one example gave me extra motivation . . . as another ton of books was donated this week!!

2013 ANNUAL REPORTS

PRESIDENT -- ADELE DRUCK -- 2013

I would like to think that the Friends involvement in promoting the passage of Measure L led to 2013 seeing a partial recovery from the constraints imposed by the City's budget difficulties. Evening and Friday hours were restored and inroads were made toward bringing staffing levels up.

Friends support of the Library in 2013 included lots of new books, DVDs, CDs, AudioBooks, supplies, prizes, refreshments, and the following – all not covered by the LAPL City Budget:

- Funding Children’s and Teen’s programs including performers at Summer Reading Club Events.
- League of Women Voters programs before all major elections
- Funding at maximum level for Hot-Off-The-Press Books
- Continuing to pay for movie license
- Special events, e.g. Tarzan Centennial and 10th anniversary of the opening of our rebuilt Library.
- Provided funding for Yoga classes, and others
- Purchase of nine new black lounge chairs to replace badly worn ones
- Purchase of a state-of-the-art audio-visual system - Epson Powerlite Pro LCD Projector, including installation - for showing movies in the Library Meeting Room.

All of this is possible largely due to our very successful Used Book Sales and the incredible crew led by Norma Lamken and Margaret Talvin, and our Membership income due to Jenny Lapidus.

Thanks to Judy Russell and Barbara Leff, our website is a marvel. In 2013, revolving pictures were added to the home page and an interactive tour of the Library and its collections was added.

As we move into the forty-second year of the Friends of the Encino-Tarzana Library’s history, we are moving along splendidly.

“FRIEND OF THE YEAR” – MARK LAMKEN -- 2013

Mark has been a strong supporter of the Friends, alongside his wife, Norma, who is co-manager of our used Bookstore and book sales. He is an attorney who has served as our 2nd Vice President and Liaison to our Bookstore. He is now our Treasurer and we're very pleased to honor him with this award. <http://www.etlibraryfriends.org/3friendOfYear.html>

MEMBERSHIP CHAIR – JENNY LAPIDUS -- 2013

USED BOOKSTORE AND USED BOOK SALES – 2013 CO-CHAIR NORMA LAMKEN AND MARGARET TALVIN

Reports on the progress of the Used Bookstore and Used Book Sales have been reported in our Newsletters, including this issue, so we will not repeat. Thanks to our dedicated volunteers, earnings from the Used Bookstore (open daily) and quarterly Used Book Sales continue to set record levels and enable us to provide the Branch with much needed books, materials, supplies, furniture, and equipment, that are not covered by the Library's City Budget. Thanks too to VIP*S for their lunches for our hard-working volunteers during our quarterly used book sales. We also thank Library patrons whose donations of books and other materials make our selection of books, videos and music fresh and exciting. Actual donation amounts are available to Friends members upon request.

PUBLICATIONS CHAIR – BARBARA LEFF -- 2013

I have two responsibilities: Newsletter/Mailings and Website content, working closely with Judy Russell, Webmaster, and Adele Druck, President.

Newsletters/Mailings: Per our Bylaws, we published two Newsletters annually: April 2013 and November 2013. We sent these to our members via email or USPS. Newsletter copies are in our archives and on our website. <http://www.etlibraryfriends.org/3newsletter.html>

Website: <http://www.ETLibraryFriends.org> - Webmaster Judy Russell does a remarkable job! We're proud to report that our website is admired, respected, and a model for others. We have made many updates to our website during the past year, including the following:

- Judy created a beautiful photo carousel for our homepage – containing posters and Library pictures. Judy also created an extensive floor plan map with photos for the Library Information webpage.
- I participated in Library's 10th anniversary celebration – April 20 – setting up photo display of Library/ Friends in Meeting Room & taking photos. <http://www.etlibraryfriends.org/4evphotos.html>
- Judy and I kept the website current – often communicating daily. Judy added links from our home page to the Library's Facebook and Twitter pages.
- We have a new Internet service provider – TotalChoice Hosting - and maintain our archives there.
- We joined TechSoup.com – source for free software for many non-profit organizations – we received Adobe Creative Suite 6, including Dreamweaver and Photoshop.

WHAT DO FRIENDS DO?

Folks ask – What do you do – as a Friends of Lvolunteer?
The answer is: “Everything that the Library needs us to do”.

Are you curious? You can read about it now on our home page – in a NEW column called “Friends in Action” – a day-to-day accounting of what we do.
You’ll read about the everyday kinds of things and the once-in-a-while kinds of things that we do.
<http://www.etlibraryfriends.org/index.php>

For example: In March 2014 - Friends volunteered almost 750 hours: Sorting donated books and AV media; stocking the Used Bookstore; setting up, staffing, and cleaning up after the BIG Used Book Sale (March 7-8); maintaining membership and financial records; updating our website; and meeting to discuss and prepare for FOL activities and expenditures.

WHY? For: Satisfaction – Pride – Joy - a Sense of Accomplishment - Friendships.
We help create and maintain that which we love – Learning!!
